Question: After a civil divorce, is a Catholic obligated to pursue an annulment?

Answer: Many Catholics are not exactly sure what an annulment does. An annulment does not deny that a marriage took place, nor does it deny that there once was love. It does not mean that people say anything untrue, such as they never loved each other or that everything in their marriage was wrong. An annulment does not negate children, nor make them illegitimate. An annulment addresses the spiritual aspect of marriage. In effect, an annulment says that at the time of the wedding, there was either something present or something absent that prevented the sacrament from taking place. It is a spiritual determination that, if granted in the affirmative, allows a person to marry in the Church.

Annulments have no legal standing and are unable to be used in a civil court. Therefore, a Catholic has no moral obligation to pursue an annulment. However, when the tragedy of divorce occurs, and there is no hope for reconciliation, annulments may help bring some spiritual closure to a person's life. Some people have found the process to be healing and others have found it to be difficult. Speak to your priest or a member of the Diocesan Tribunal staff to decide what is best for you.

Dear Saint Gilbert Parishioners,

Our parish is one of three Archdiocese of Chicago parishes that will host the visit of a relic of St. Jude the Apostle. The visit will take place on Tuesday, September 12th, beginning at 1PM in the church, continuing with 7PM Mass in honor of St. Jude, and veneration continuing until 10PM.

The relic, which is usually displayed at the parish church of San Salvatore in Lauro in central Rome, is on loan to various churches and shrines in this country through a special arrangement with the Vatican and the Vicariato di Roma, the local Church of the city of Rome. Fr. Carlos Martins accompanies the relic and oversees the visits, and will be here to celebrate the 7PM Mass.

We have been advised that interest in viewing the relic will be great and to anticipate large numbers of visitors. All are encouraged to make time for this very special prayer opportunity with the Apostle of the Impossible.

Peace,

Fr. John

GOSPEL

Where two or three of you are gathered together in the name of Jesus, he is there with you. When you and your family ask God's blessings on you and the food you eat, Jesus is sitting there with you. "Bless this food, O Lord, we pray. Keep our souls near you today." Because two of you on earth asked for God's blessing, it will be given to you by God in heaven.

PRAYER

Holy Spirit, heal my body and protect my soul.

Children's Liturgy of the Word...

is looking for teens and adults who would like to help this important Sunday ministry with two different positions:

- reading scripture to the children — this ministry is a great place to share your talent of reading out-loud or develop your skills, especially if you've ever thought of becoming a lector in the parish; and 2) sharing a reflection about the Gospel with the children — helping them learn about the Gospel and how it applies to their lives (reflect). There are prepared reflections to share, so you don't have to create your own material!

Readers or Reflectors are asked to do so once a month if possible, unless you choose to help more frequently! More information will be available after the 9am & 11am masses NEXT Sunday, September 17th. If you're not sure and want to see what this ministry is like, you are welcome to join us during mass!

FEATURING:

As soon as he was elected to the Papacy, Benedict XVI immediately challenged the relativism of our times that rejects God, that sees nothing as definitive, and that, according to the Pope, sets as the ultimate yardstick the individual's own ego and desires alone. The Pope offers instead an opposing standard: Christ, the Son of God, the true man. The Pope's words are rousing and demand an examination of conscience. His words are meant for all. With strong words, Benedict XVI invites us to place God at the center of our lives. Thus, this book is a selection of key words from the teachings of the Holy Father since he began his Pontificate, presented in alphabetical order.

Each key word leads to an inspiring and insightful meditation from the Pope on various important spiritual themes and topics. Benedict XVI invites us in these words to become daily actors in the real revolution that comes from God and is called Love.
